CUSTOMER TESTIMONIALS

Thank you to you and your team for making the process of advising, fitting and buying of the Tihoi gear so easy for us. You have everything on site with multiple options available and a great size range, all at competitive pricing. Your staff were very helpful and knew their product and the suitability for our son. This certainly made the gear preparation hassle free for me! The added bonus of free sock pack naming was awesome! I had peace of mind knowing that what my son was taking was going to meet all the needs of the outdoor programme.

Helen Derry

We have had two boys go to Tihoi and have purchased all their clothing and equipment through the St Paul's School Shop. The shop has a great range, often providing a choice of different brands for each product, all of which have been tried & tested at Tihoi. This is reassuring to know your son has the best quality gear for the tough conditions. Sandy and her team are amazing. Not only do they have a wealth of knowledge on all the Tihoi gear, the shop provides a fantastic friendly and helpful service. They take the time to make sure your son gets the right gear choice for his individual needs.

Anna Grigg

Being able to make an appointment at the School Shop and having one-on-one assistance when shopping for Tihoi gear was great. It is quite a list, so the experience and product knowledge of the staff along with the tried and tested clothing & equipment in stock left me feeling confident that Olly would head off well equipped and warm!

Jenny Barris

Thank you so much for your time and compassion while we were shopping Tihoi products for Cameron and Josh. At a very stressful time, your patience and helpfulness was much appreciated.

TIHOI

Dear Parents/caregivers

We have put this information and priced catalogue together with the School Shop for your convenience. The school has had the benefit of more than 30 years experience operating Tihoi Venture School and the accumulative knowledge from successive directors means they know which products work best in the unique Tihoi environment.

In addition, working in the outdoor education sector gives us direct contact with the most up-to-date products, experience and knowledge of their suitability and durability for our Tihoi students. Clothing and equipment needs to be of a good quality to stand the rigours of the Tihoi programme and we have worked with St Paul's School Shop sharing our knowledge and experience, to offer you a range of products and advice that we know will meet your son's needs for the time he is at Tihoi.

All of the products in the School Shop have been tested and approved by either myself or my instructors and are highly recommended by us. In the past some parents have purchased products elsewhere that have proven to be unsuitable for Tihoi conditions and consequently parents have had to make a second purchase. We want to prevent this situation whenever possible.

Please do not hesitate to speak to the staff at Tihoi or the School Shop, if you have any questions. We all want to share our collective wisdom in assisting you and your son at this time in his education.

Choosing the correct sleeping bag can be a daunting task and below our Rab supplier, who has over 30 year experience with supplying sleeping bags, has provided the information below to help you make an informed decision. It is very important to the shop staff that your son is suited to the right sleeping bag and that the confusion over the EN testing is clarified. The Rab sleeping bag is our most popular seller and we have always received positive feedback on the way it has performed. Tihoi staff also recommend this bag for Tihoi conditions.

NO DOWN SLEEPING BAGS AT TIHOI PLEASE.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT SLEEPING BAG

It is important to understand that a sleeping bag does not warm you up – its job is to retain the heat that your body generates, preventing you from getting cold. In fact, a sleeping bag should be considered an essential piece of life preserving equipment. Ratings describe how well a sleeping bag retains heat when the air exterior to the bag is at a certain temperature.

Because all of our bodies are different, what one person needs for a good night's sleep is not necessarily the same as the next. This means that it is difficult to quantify exactly how warm a sleeping bag is and as such, any rating should be treated as a guide. At Rab, we use the European EN13537:2012 standard, to rate the majority of our sleeping bags.

EN13537:2012 is an up to date European standard designed to regulate the temperature ratings of sleeping bags across the industry. The test assumes that a 'standard man' is 25 years old, 1.73 m tall and 73 kg, while a 'standard woman' is 25 years old, 1.60 m tall and 60 kg. The EN13537 rating is determined by using a thermal mannequin to accurately record a series of measurements from the 'Upper limit', the temperature at which a person can sleep without perspiring, all the way down to the 'Extreme limit', which determines the minimum temperature at which a person can survive. Males tend to sleep warmer so it is safe to say the ratings can be understated.

For our EN13537:2012 tested sleeping bags, we list the three lowest temperature ratings; comfort, limit and extreme as well as our own Rab Sleep limit.

Comfort Rating

This rating expresses the optimal temperature you'll experience when wrapped inside your sleeping bag. You should use the Comfort rating as the basis for your purchase.

Lower Limit Rating

The 'Lower limit' measurement is the temperature at which the test's 'standard male' can remain asleep for eight hours without waking due to heat loss.

Extreme rating

The extreme rating expresses the absolute limit of a sleeping bag. It should be used to guide how a bag would perform in an emergency situation rather than a recommended use case. It refers to the temperature at which a 'standard female' can remain for six hours without risk of death from hypothermia.

Note:

So many variables can come into it as well, health, fitness, are they using a mat underneath, diet, humidity, altitude, shape of the bag, are they using a liner, etc so the ratings should only be used as a guide.

Without testing, a bag manufacturer or supplier can say what they want until someone is called to account. Without the EN13537:2012, they can only use a guestimate!

Very important information regarding water proof clothing and the tape.

Dear parents/caregivers,

This is just a note to ensure that you have the correct information regarding all waterproof garments that you have purchased. Please refer to the important care instructions below regarding all seam sealed waterproof clothing. It is very important that all wet clothing is hung up as soon as possible to preserve the waterproof tape from gathering mould spores and dirt, which will damage the glues ability to adhere to the garment. Please also be aware that the heat can melt the glue on the waterproof tape which can cause the tape to lift.

Care instructions for Waterproof garments

Close all zips, domes and Velcro then turn garment inside out.

Use a gentle machine wash on a cold cycle. (If you are unsure of the washing temperatures of your machine use cold water only to avoid damage). We recommend using Sno-Seal Sports Wash or a similar product specially designed for technical fabrics strictly following the manufacturer's instructions.

Spin to remove excess water. It will help if you turn the garment back out the right way and re-spin to remove any water that may be sitting on the inside.

Line dry in shade. Do not leave or store wet / damp as this will promote the growth of mould which will destroy the water proof membrane and damage other materials. Your garment can be tumble dried on a cool cycle; again, if you are unsure of the temperature of your machine it is best to line dry to avoid damage.

Do not Dry Clean, Iron, Bleach, use Fabric Softeners or other harsh chemical cleaners. These can destroy the technical qualities of the materials used in the fabric.

Keep away from direct heat which can soften glues, sparks or flames as these can burn holes.

Be careful around sharp objects that might puncture holes in the waterproof membrane like gorse, bush lawyer, thistles, etc.

Do keep your garment clean as a build-up of sweat and dirt will potentially damage the materials, created unnecessary wear and reduce the overall performance. It does not need to be washed after every use but if it looks dirty then it's probably time to give it a clean.

If you start to notice water not beading and running off the outer fabric but holding water instead then recoating the DWR finish is required. We recommend using Sno-Seal Silicone Water-Guard strictly following the manufacturer's instructions.

Kind regards

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF REPLACEMENT

Products supplied by The School Shop are covered by a manufacturer's warranty that applies to faulty workmanship or product malfunction within one year of the purchase date. Product misuse or poor product maintenance is not covered by this warranty. To ensure that the product warranty applies, please read the following carefully.

TRAMPING BOOTS

To ensure that the life of the EVOLVE TRAMPING BOOTS is prolonged, they require the following care:

- Boots are to be waterproofed with an appropriate leather waterproofing agent (e.g. Nikwax) prior to their use, and regularly thereafter when used in wet or damp conditions.
- Boots are to be dried and aired after use, especially when the boots have become wet or damp.
- Boots are to be laced and tightened appropriately when wearing (see specific instructions in product box).

SLEEPING BAGS

Sleeping bags should be cared for accordingly:

- Aired and dried to protect the material from accumulating mildew.
- Do not roll and pack into the bag as it can increase moisture build up. Stuff into the cram bag.
- Used in conjunction with a sleeping bag liner to prevent general wear and tear.
- Hand washed or dry-cleaned according to the cleaning instructions. Sleeping bags are not made to be put in washing machines.

TRAMPING PACK

When caring for your TRAMPING PACK, ensure the following:

- All straps must be tightened and excess straps tied to the pack to avoid them being caught, especially during transportation.
- A pack liner is inserted into the pack as an additional waterproofing precaution.

While this is by no means a comprehensive list of instructions, it is important to follow the manufacturer's instructions and ensure care is taken with these garments. We would expect that these products would last long after the students' Tihoi experience.

NOTE: ANY PRODUCT THAT IS FOUND TO BE FAULTY WILL EITHER BE REPLACED OR CREDITED AT THE DISCRETION OF SHOP MANAGEMENT. ALL WATERPROOF CLOTHING THAT IS SEAM SEALED MUST BE WASHED IN COLD WATER USING SPORT-WASH DETERGENT.
